

I have already received feedback regarding Lou Gehrig and his exposure to diathermy before the onset of ALS. Sam Milham of the US public Health Service notified me of a book written by Gehrig's trainer documenting the diathermy treatment for Gehrig lower back problem. This documents that Gehrig had probable excess exposure to electromagnetic field from the diathermy.

I am still searching for more information regarding Gehrig's exposure to electromagnetic fields, so please contact me if you have any additional information to add to this. I thank you for assistance.
